For all the world to see

Once for all

His head was crowned with thorns

Once for all

His body bruised & torn

Once for all

His Father turned his back and looked away

Once for all

He died alone that day

Once for all

They took his body down

Once for all

They laid him in the ground

Once for all

He entered hell & brought the captives home

Once for all

Death was overthrown

Once for all

He burst out of the grave

Once for all

Angels sang again

Once for all

The Father cheered His conquering hero home

Once for all

Once for all
